COLOR SERGEANT SAMUEL C. GIPPIN

AUTOBIOGRAPHY WRITTEN SEVERAL YEARS BEFORE HIS DEATH.

Interesting Life of an Adams County Soldier Who Could Tell a Good Story and was Buried in National Cemetery.

Having arrived safe at Centerville we halted for the night, and that night the Rebs got between us and Washington and formed a line of battle at Chantilly which was on our road; this we had to go through to get to Washington. Gen. Reynolds took the "Beavers" and marched up the pike towards Fairfax Court House, and no sooner did the battle begin until we were up to the Court House and flanked them completely, and as soon as they saw we were left the line inglorious. So the way was now open to the city of Washington, and we marched into the city, thus the second Bull Run fight ended.

After we had been in Washington city a few days eating good soft bread the Sunday soldiers thought that we were faring too good, for I must say that the people of the city showed us more favors than they did them, and why should they not, for to the South they were the enemy and they knew it. Our worthy President and Cabinet came daily to see us. But all was quiet in Washington, the Rebs were very busy. Stonewall Jackson came well nigh in sight of Washington and crossed the river, the looked as if they meant something and so they did, for no sooner did they cross until they took the line of march for Frederick city. Now what was to be done? He must be stopped or he will do some mischief and what was to be done must be done soon. After trying one general after another and could get none to suit, for no one wanted to be responsible for a defeated and well-nigh demoralized army, so at last they took Little George the old man that could at that time have got the army to do what they did. As soon as he took command he took the same army that had been defeated and marched right after them to the South. Here he defeated and drove them, by his skill, off the mountain, followed next day and drove them across the Potomac river. I do not believe that we had another general that could have had such command over a demoralized army. But the great secret was they had the utmost confidence in his capacity and integrity, after this our little general was again suspended. If ever a man had just cause to complain about his treatment by the Government it was General George B. McClellan.

The Army of the Potomac was again without a commander, the next was Ambrose Burnside. He was a man of considerable military tact and a man of honor, and no doubt did the very best he knew, but one thing is a certain fact, a man must have the confidence of his soldiers if he wishes to succeed with them. The soldiers of the Potomac had confidence in George B. McClellan, and hence his success at his battles. Fredericksburg, which is the next field of battle the Union Army is led on by

ELECTRIC LIGHT BUT NO CONTRACT

TOWN COUNCIL VOTE THAT TOWN SHALL BE LIGHTED BY ELECTRICITY.

Light and Ordinance Committees to Have Ordinance Ready for Next Meeting With Prices.

The adjourned Town Council meeting on last Tuesday evening, to consider the lighting of the borough, began proceedings, all councilmen present, with a motion by Councilman Wolf that the matter of business experience on the Committee named in letter do not join in the same. He has been one who has been the friend of the college in donating funds, in establishing a professorship. The letter tells its own story and rather eloquently as an attempt to put upon other shoulders the duty which belongs to the trustees.

A special meeting of the Board of Trustees of Pennsylvania College, held August 10th, 1903, a committee of five, consisting of H. H. Weber, D. D., John Wagner, D. D., J. J. Young, D. D., Charles Baum, M. D., and Mr. James Strong, was appointed, with instructions to make a careful study of the needs of the College, to consider available men and nominate one or more persons for the Presidency made vacant by the resignation of Dr. McKnight.

Two meetings of the above named committee have been held.

In view of the important issues involved, it was decided to allow more time for consideration and conference before undertaking to formulate a report.

The undersigned feel that they would be enabled to discharge their difficult and responsible task far more acceptably to our church for which the college exists, if the alumni would state their views and preferences as indicated in the following queries:

1. What do you conceive to be the chief needs of our Alma Mater?
2. How, in your judgment, can these needs be best met?
3. Why, in your judgment, is best qualified to fill the responsible position of President?
4. Name your second choice.
5. Name your third choice.

We assure you that frank and full answers to the first and second inquiries will be most gratefully received by us, and will be given the most careful consideration by the Board of Trustees.

The Alumni Association has six representatives in the Board, and these are entitled to know the views and preferences of their electors. The expressed preference of a majority of the Alumni, if this can be secured, should and doubtless will have great weight in determining the action of the Board in filling the Presidency as well as in endeavoring to meet the other problems now pressing for solution.

A prompt reply by return mail addressed to John Wagner, D. D., Hazleton, Pa., Secretary of the Committee, and also a representative of the Alumni Association in the Board of Trustees, will be greatly appreciated.

We are, in fraternal bonds, your humble servants.

PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE MATTERS

What is Being Done Toward Securing a President.

The following letter has been sent out to all Alumni by part of a committee recently appointed. It is to be noted that the man of business experience on the Committee named in letter do not join in the same. He has been one who has been the friend of the college in donating funds, in establishing a professorship. The letter tells its own story and rather eloquently as an attempt to put upon other shoulders the duty which belongs to the trustees.

TEACH THEM THAT THE COW IS FULL OF NERVOUS SENSIBILITY AND GIVEN TO LIKES AND DISLIKES

To a sympathetic milkman, who is in business with her, the will yield much more milk than to a brutal, stolid or unsympathetic milkman.

One Chelmsford milky mother of boys gave her favorite milker nineteen pails of milk, while to a less agreeable or intelligent hand she afforded only fifteen. Our farmers do not give time enough to cow psychology.

FORMER RESIDENT OF THE TOWN

Takes Prominent Part in a Poultry Show in Springfield, Mass.

A Springfield, Massachusetts, paper recently contained an excellent likeness of F. C. Brinkerhoff, well known to every one here as a boy twenty-five years ago. Notwithstanding the additional avoidances in evidence in the picture, first glance told you it was Frank C. Brinkerhoff, one of the moving spirits in the first annual exhibit of the Springfield Poultry and Pet Stock Show. Mr. Brinkerhoff displayed a fine collection of pigeons, among them a rare bird in a blue and white pigeon. He also exhibited a fine lot of French Houdans, some of which have won many prizes at other shows and were expected to carry off honors of the show. These birds are crested and bearded and may be called the national hen of France.

There is more dependence upon the baking powder, so far as economy in making bread and cake is concerned, than in any other one thing.

The baking powder that will make the most of the flour and the most healthful food is the most economical.

The cheap alum baking powder average about five per cent. of levelling gas. Therefore it will take three times as much alum powder to raise the same cake or biscuits as it does of the Royal powder, for instance, which is a cream of tartar powder with three times the levelling strength, so the actual cost with the alum powder is the greatest. Further than this, however, the cream of tartar powder makes the finest kind of food, while the alum powder frequently fall when all the eggs, four and butter used are washed.

The greatest economy in the use of a baking powder like the Royal is the healthfulness of the food it makes. It saves in doctor's bills many times its cost over alum powder.

The Royal Baking Powder, as every housewife knows, is always to be relied upon. It is one of the greatest aids she has. She is always able with the least trouble to make the very finest breads, cakes, muffins and crusts. Many a reputation has been made by the delicious things she has been able to make with it. Any woman has a right to be indignant when the grocer sends her another baking powder in its place, which spoils her food, ruins her reputation and brings her shame.

Hon. Joseph A. Gudden on Panama.

Hon. Joseph A. Gudden, Congressman from New York City and a native of Adams County made a speech on the Panama Canal in the House on the 14th. Gudden made a speech in which the Congressman endeavored to secure the Canal as one that would cut a dangerous precedent, violate the Golden Rule that ought to obtain among the nations of the world, and subject to the charge that in our desire to acquire territory from foreign nations we have departed from the wholesome law of honesty and fair dealing only to resort to the dangerous and unwholesome policy of "might makes right." It would seem unnecessary to reply to a large naval force not to maintain treaty rights, but to force a sister republic to yield one of its important Commonwealths. Other orators of the occasion, notably the Hon. Charles F. Smith, of New York, and the Hon. William B. Ewing, of Ohio, both without dissent, and way out the one the Western Hemisphere? Would this action have been taken had the territory been under the jurisdiction of England, France, or Germany? If not, then why was it done to a weak nation entitled to all the rights and courtesies of these named? [Loud applause on the Democratic side.]

The Champion Butler.

James H. Beecher of Cumberland township had Wm. Curry the champion butcher kill two beavers at his place last week. One weighed 66 lbs. and the other 65 lbs. and 20 persons were present, to witness the wonderful skill displayed by the butcher.

One was killed on time, and in three minutes it was skinned, cleaned, dressed and cut up and the meat was ready to be put away or into the frying pan. The other beaver was told to take his time with the same work was done in 30 minutes. Curry killed 12 beavers the same day traveling more than forty miles to do the work. He is 26 years old and claims to hold the champion record of the country.

There were individual donations in 1903 in United States by gift and bequest to charity, religious and educational purposes, libraries, museums and galleries of over seventy-five million dollars.

I was but a short time at home when my brother-in-law started to the West. His oldest son was drafted, so that only a small boy was left at home, they then lived between the Seminary Ridge and the river. The boy was a half dollar and very sharp and when they got in sight of the Johnnies one day they left as all brave men would, but our bugler got a kind of dry and stopped where there was a small stream of water running under the road and after taking a good swig of whiskey out of the flask he knelt down to get some water, and rising and deny came in contact with the spurs and he thought that the Johnnies had shot him. He shouted out, "Hold on gentlemen I'll surrender, hold on for God's sake." But he soon found his mistake poor fellow. Our home guards did not go very far from home after this occurrence, but they rode around and kept up a life.

W.M. ARCH. McCLEAN, Editor and Manager. The Turnpike Company is Allowed $100 For Each of Two Toll Gate Houses and 6 Cents For the Pikes. J. L. Williams, Esq., as Master and S. Miley Miller, Charles B. Stoner, H. U. Water, Harry Kline and John A. Drem, as a jury of viewers set on last Thursday and Friday to hear testimony in the matter of the condemnation of a portion of the old York and Gettysburg turnpike lying between eastern limits of Gettysburg and western limits of New Oxford, and reconsider the abandonment of the same. John D. Keith, Esq., represented the petitioners, W. C. Sibley, Esq., the turnpike company, and Wm. C. Sibley, Esq., the County Commissioners. The petitioners called as witnesses W. C. Sibley, Esq., Geo. J. Grove, D. M. Wolf, Dr. Henry Stewart, Henry Osborne, Geo. J. Sibley, Esq., S. Miley Miller, H. U. Water, W. C. Sibley, Esq., H. C. Sibley, Esq., W. H. O. Neal, S. M. Eshman, George Seltik, C. C. Sifton and Hon. Wm. McClean, all of whom were of the opinion it was necessary for the benefit of the public to have the pike abandoned and made a public road.

The witnesses for county commissioners were Dr. C. E. Goldsborough, Harry P. Buehler, J. W. Eichel, John H. Dutera, H. G. Deitzel, David L. Plank, J. W. Sibley, Esq., W. M. McClean, J. S. Sibley, Esq., Frank Froemeyer and W. D. Brown. They were of opinion that it was for the benefit of the public to have the pike abandoned. There seemed to be a fair with the pike, and it was going to be the taxes of Strasburg township to keep the pike open. The master and jury heard arguments of counsel on Friday. They then deliberated and found that it was for the best interests of the people of the county of Adams to have the pike abandoned and made a public road. FULTON SIZES UP JUDGE SWOPE. A dispatch from McConnellsburg to a city paper says there are breakers ahead for Judge Swope in Fulton county as he is a reaction in concerned. The temperance people and those in favor of a non-partisan bench oppose him. The situation is summed up in the dispatch as follows: President Judge Samuel McGowan, Gettysburg, succeeded himself on the bench in the Adams-Fulton district. It will be because the anti-Quintessence in Adams, and the temperance people in Fulton county, cannot prevent his nomination and election. Judge Swope is an acknowledged machine leader in his own county, and he will be able to overcome any opposition he may have there. "Conditions here, however, are different. In addition to that element of the county which is opposed to him, he will have determined opposition at the hands of the temperance people. The latter may again gain license control, but have ever accomplished anything in the past, a few sentimental remarks in letting them down easy. It is also argued that Judge Swope's political activity is not becoming a political dignity."

He was an exemplary citizen and a devoted husband and father, and will be missed by all.

THE LIGHT QUESTION. The Town Council did the right thing in their recent meeting in adopting electric light as the method by which to light the town. It was not a question of economy to light the town by gas, but a question of light. What would be adequate lighting by any other method, would have demonstrated the need of many more gas lamps than proposed and so have increased the cost of the proposition any element of economy. There is but one question of economy. It is the question of light and the light is the most economical and the best.

TWO FIRES AT FAIRFIELD. Lots of Smoke—Little Damage—Socials—Recreation and Dissipation. Fairfield, Jan. 25.—On last Tuesday afternoon the farm house of John I. Rein, at the old mill property, came near being burned to the ground. It caught through the chimney on the second floor. There was no one at home except Mrs. Moore, wife of Howard Moore, the tenant. Fire was falling on the falling when the first discovered it. She was frightened and rang the dinner bell. Several farmers who were close by at the call came to the house and saw the smoke at the same time. They hastened to the house and put out the fire none too soon to save the building. There was insurance on the house. On last Sunday, just after the church people had returned from services, the chimney in the house of D. R. Menzies, in Fairfield took fire. The wind was blowing a gale at the time. There was considerable anxiety among the neighbors for a while as to the safety of the building. Fortunately there was a wire netting in the top of the chimney which prevented any large chunks of fire from coming out and scattering to other buildings or falling on his own roof.
